Transformative UX/UI Leadership
During Challenging Times

During the challenging pandemic year of 2020, I had the pleasure of collaborating with an exceptional client— intelligent, precise, and deeply aware of their goals.

This experience marked my first major project as a UX designer, where I led the UX/UI stream for several months. It was an incredible learning opportunity, reinforcing the value of hands-on experience through practice, iteration, and collaboration.

Accelerate your AI value with a stronger data foundation

How to turn your data, analytics and AI ecosystem

Do what matters

AI is revolutionizing the data landscape like never before

In this new era, organizations are using AI to reinvent themselves and create new, lasting business value, and create new experiences that customers love. To achieve their artificial intelligence aspirations, organizations will need to harness even more data and insights from their people, systems, and platforms.

But according to new research from Avanade, just half of surveyed executives report they have taken steps to ensure the data foundation for their AI tools and models is accurate and reliable. More than half are concerned that at the same moment, emerging technologies like generative AI will fuel their AI ambitions.

Build a more robust data ecosystem with Azure Databricks

Databricks lakehouse helps you carry out deep data science and analytics

While Microsoft Fabric unifies your data to provide easy self-serve access to insights for business users, if you're looking for a platform that can carry out more advanced data science exploration, Avanade can meet these needs as well.

Azure Databricks is frequently used – and long-time championed – by data engineers, data scientists and analysts to carry out deep data science like data ingestion, modeling, transformation and analytics. It delivers best-in-class data engineering workflows, spanning batch and real-time with limitless scale with a unified governance plane through its native Unity Catalog offering. With Databricks, you can access a broad range of tools for working with data on its lakehouse data platform.

Our clients can also turn to Avanade's industry-specific brickbuilder solutions to solve their unique challenges.

When considering data platforms, Avanade believes that the combined power of Databricks and Microsoft Fabric can empower your data experts and business users with familiar tools to carry out analytics and enable AI at scale. Working hand in hand, Microsoft Fabric ingests data from multiple sources and provides an easy-to-use interface while Databricks delivers advanced data exploration and transformation and machine learning capabilities. With the best of both solutions, more of your people can put more of your data to work. Learn how to harness both together in our guide.

Explore Avanade's data and AI solutions

The era of AI is here. When everyone and everything in your organization is connected by data, Avanade can help turn your data, analytics and AI ecosystem into your biggest advantage.

In this guide, explore our data and AI portfolio of solutions, services and accelerators that our clients around the globe are using to embrace the transformative potential of AI.

Is your data ready to meet the challenges of AI?

The AI opportunity is immense. IDC predicts that artificial AI will contribute $19.9 trillion to the global economy through 2030 and drive 3.5% of global GDP in 2030.

Rapidly evolving generative AI technologies have only begun to influence how business gets done at most organizations. But it's clear that by 2030, AI will impact nearly everyone in the global workforce, from better ways of working to entire categories of business that don't yet exist.

According to Avanade's own research, nearly every business leader surveyed agrees that AI will be transformative for their employees and customers.

But 98% also said they face challenges to achieving AI at scale, with common hurdles including sprawling, disconnected data estates; a complex stack of tools, platforms and vendors needed to harness value from data; and a lack of a visionary AI strategy for their data and analytics initiatives.¹

As the intelligent enterprise will always be powered by data, nobody but Avanade is better positioned to help organizations harness the human-centric experience in the workplace, where AI is being leveraged with better analytics and decision-making. Contact us in this guide, and let our team show you how we can help through a workshop or consultation.

of business leaders face challenges in achieving AI at scale, including the following:

- Sprawling, disconnected data estates
- Complex stack of tools, platforms and vendors
- Lack of a visionary AI strategy

Leading global food manufacturer unlocks insights with Microsoft Fabric

A top international food manufacturer wanted to unlock new insights from its existing customer data platform and simplify its data infrastructure, which included SAP, Informatica, Azure Data Lake, Databricks, Power BI and others.

We brought these existing Microsoft and non-Microsoft investments into the solution, avoiding the time and cost of a rip-and-replace project. Working alongside the client, we helped assign the target MVP architecture and roadmap to overcome pain points for business users. We also prioritized a backlog to test and implement in an eight-week delivery phase.

Based on the early success of this program, the company wants to reengineer its SAP data flow using Microsoft Fabric to implement a faster, less complex and more efficient data platform.

What strategies are you considering to enhance your workplace automation and AI?

Are you interested in scaling automation across your organization to reduce operating costs and empower your people to do more important work?

Are legacy data systems and processes holding you back from your AI ambitions? With sprawling data footprints across multiple clouds, companies struggle to innovate with AI when disconnected or ungoverned data stretches across multiple vendor software stacks and analytics tools. Too many bottlenecks in the data supply chain can also prevent your teams from harnessing the insights they need.

If your organization is struggling with data complexity, Avanade can help you simplify and unify your data and analytics workflows with an intelligent data platform like Microsoft Fabric. We help you build a stronger data foundation to fuel AI that transforms customer and employee experiences.

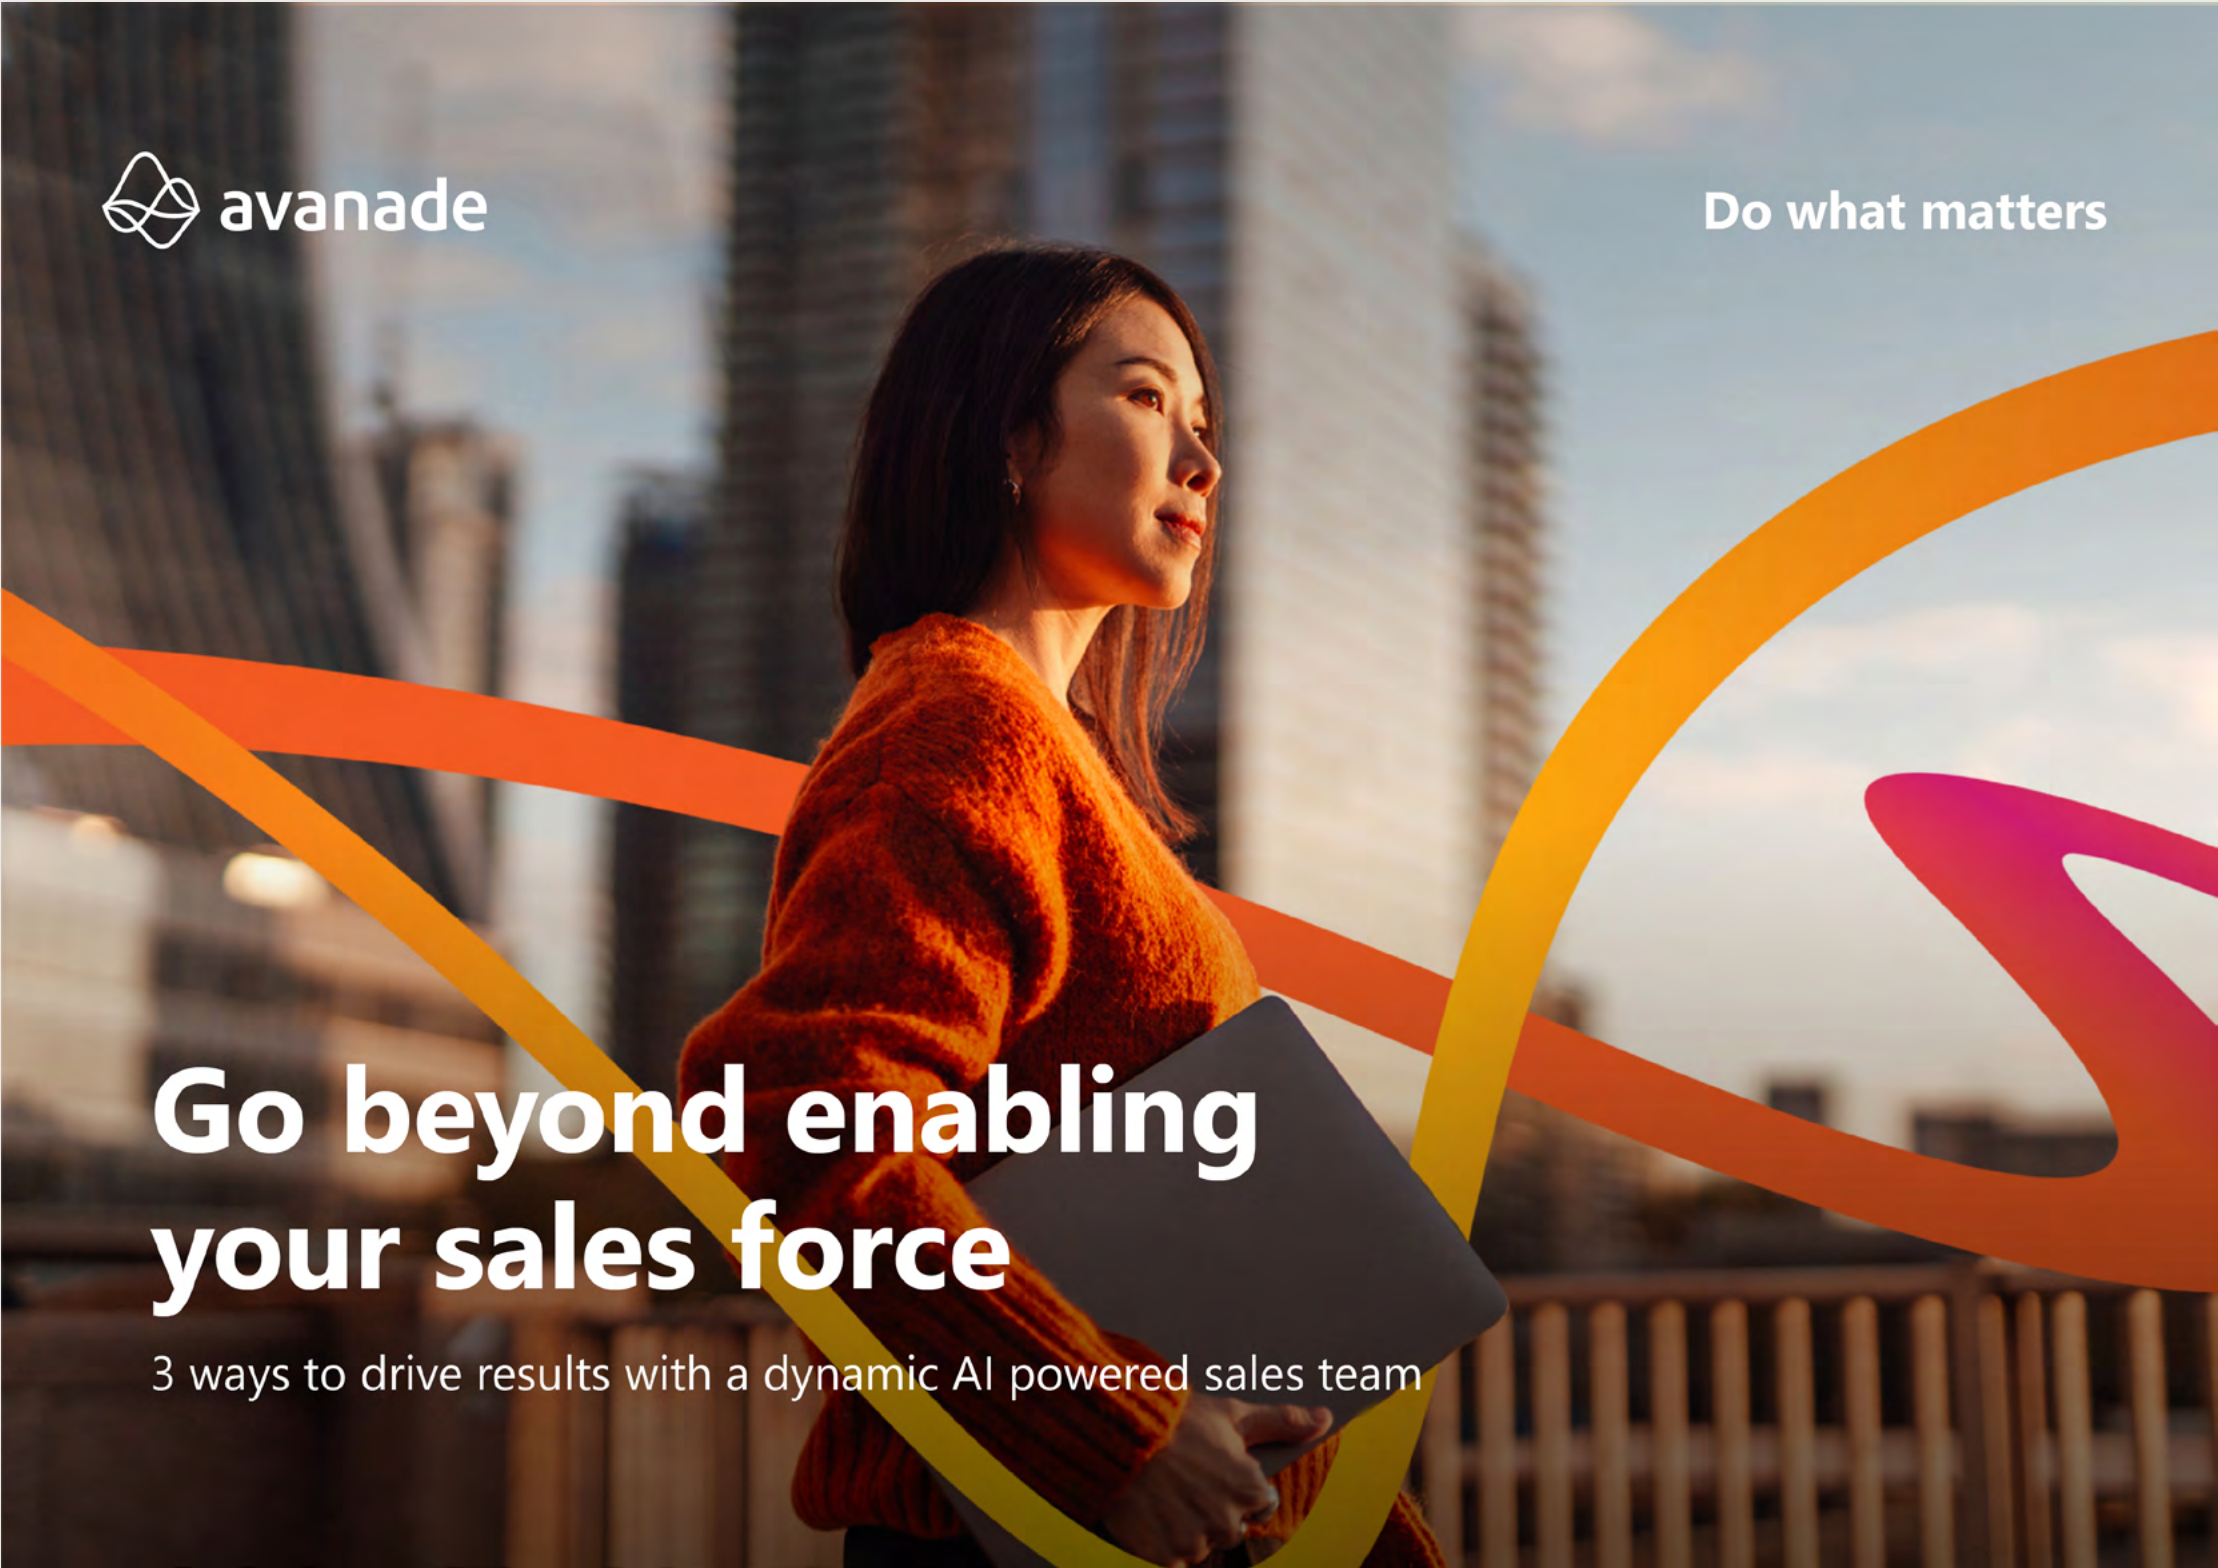

With organized, governed data and a stronger digital core, you can empower more of your people to make better, data-driven decisions while reducing risk, controlling costs and unlocking new value with trusted data that's easy to access.

To ensure you don't get left behind, take a look at our 3 recommendations, designed to help you create maximum impact from your approach to AI for your sales organization:

Put the "R" back into CRM

CRM is often seen as a burden by sales teams – a data repository where they have to spend time inputting data and searching for information with no return of value to them. It's time to shift that perception.

With AI powered assistance, tools such as Microsoft Copilot and Dynamics 365 can create new records, update leads and opportunities, capture conversation notes and store messages from customers, automatically or in just a few clicks.

Show your sales teams that their AI assistant

Help sellers spend their newfound time wisely

Once you've freed your sales team, you can help them to achieve their numbers. Sellers are supporting more and more customers, but with the right insights, you can help them spend their time on the right deals and ensure every customer interaction is meaningful.

We recommend helping your sales team with opportunity and customer insights. With detailed deal insights, sellers can ask which deals to work on, and their AI powered assistant can tell them which high value, high probability opportunities have the highest potential to close, suggest next steps and

Move at speed with out of the box AI capabilities

For many mid-market organizations, the complexity of integrating AI can represent a major challenge. To move at speed and scale, we recommend looking to CRM platforms with AI natively embedded. Solutions such as Dynamics 365 and Microsoft Copilots bring the power of AI directly to your sellers and their workflows, helping you to drive significant value quickly.

Alongside a clear vision and a set of use cases prioritized by value, you can focus your efforts on educating sales teams on the best ways to work with their new digital assistants. In some Avanade is helping the client set up and onboard 24/7 security monitoring of its full IT environment, leveraging Microsoft Azure Sentinel as a key building block to improve its threat hunting and incident response.

Modernizing security operations with gen AI

After enrolling in the Security Copilot early access program, this energy company decided it needed a partner to provide Copilot expertise to help maximize value for its security operations. We helped modernize its SOC, identifying the top manual processes and use cases in order to replace manual steps with Security Copilot prompts and skills – enabling 60% faster time to execute on incidents.

WHY REBRANDING?

There are many reasons for rebranding, in our case it was the following:

- 1. Ekoplast wanted to attract a new audience. With new factory being planned, they needed strategy to go to new markets. Become international brand.
- 2. Ekoplast needed to strengthen the French, already established presence and differentiate from the rest of the competitors, both local and international, including polish.
- 3. Ekoplast brand didn't reflect their current offerings, it felt old and outdated, some of the competitors used similar components and names for their products making it difficult to stand out.
